UPCOMING TRAINING

COLLAB365
#GLOBALCON1

COLLAB365 brings you the latest information on Microsoft Products and Services. The Collab365 Global Conference (#GlobalCon1) is March 2-6, 2020, and all sessions are online. The conference will cover a variety of topics on services such as SharePoint, Power Apps, Teams, OneNote, Office 365 and more. Included in the training are two sessions on consulting – how to strike out on your own. Best of all, the live conference is free to attend. Can't attend the conference? Right now, you can get an ALL-ACCESS PASS that gives you lifetime access to all GlobalCon1 sessions, 10 E-Books, and Teams training videos for $59. Early bird pricing is still available, so be quick before the price increases on February 5. Don't miss out on this great training opportunity! Click here for a free live conference ticket or here for the All-Access Pass.

The new Microsoft Edge: 10 rules to take control of your browser

The default settings for Microsoft's new browser could stand a little tweaking. Here's how to get rid of annoying notification prompts, block trackers, customize the new tab page, and more…

SharePoint Roadmap Pitstop: January 2020

How are those New Year's resolutions coming along? We hope well. And we want to let you know that the SharePoint team has been resolving left and right - a little page version history here, a little image resizing there, with a nice bit of custom search results page enablement. Read more

Don't Forget Your End Users in Your Collaboration Planning

As with many of you out there, Microsoft Teams has become my primary collaboration and communication platform. I manage my client activities and engage with community groups through Teams. Read more

How do I make SharePoint not look like SharePoint?

That is a question I hear all of the time! With the introduction of Modern Pages, that has become easier to do. Here is Part One of a two-part blog post to get you thinking about how you might present your intranet information a little differently.

Branding the Modern UI in SharePoint Online – Part 1

Stay tuned for Part Two in the next Found Friday!

Pin a Channel in Microsoft Teams

When Microsoft Teams was first launched, and many within the community recognized that there would be a proliferation of Teams and Channels on the platform, there were requests to "archive" both. The process of "archiving" is much more complicated than backing up a file share or even a SharePoint team site since Microsoft Teams is comprised of both SharePoint and Exchange workloads. Read more

Hang tight...the weekend is almost here!
