SharePoint Migration Tool now supports SharePoint Server 2010 (general availability)

October 2019 marks the beginning of the 12-month countdown before SharePoint Server 2010 reaches end of extended support (October 13th, 2020). It's not too late to start planning an upgrade or migration to the latest version of SharePoint whether your plans are on-premises, in the cloud, or somewhere in between. Read more

Sharing videos in Microsoft 365 when working remotely

With many employees, teachers, and students working from home and moving activities online, videos are a great way to stay informed and engaged. Sharing important messages from leadership, progress updates with teammates, or a fun clip of your home office setup, are all ways to help keep people connected. Read more

5 Steps to have a Successful Live Event for your Government Organization

A live event is the online equivalent of what happens in an auditorium: One or a few people communicate to a large group, managing the full event experience and controlling the content that is shared. Attendees can watch the event, ask questions, and share in conversation with each other. Read more
